Amusing contests and old fashioned games occupied the interest of the guests early in the evening and later a musical program was enjoyed. Quite an elaborate and delicious plate luncheon with hot coffee was served, the hostess being assisted in entertaining and serving by Misses Ella Jones and Ada Head, the preence of Rev. and Mrs. Rufus Beckert lending dignity to the occasion.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Meth odist church was pleasantly entertained at the lovely home of Mrs. E. K to tell from our examination the books Gantt Tuesday afternoon, when twelve members responded to roll call. Sev eral matters of importance were dis posed of and a committee appointed to purchase an art square for the parson age sitting room. A collection of $6.00 was turned into the treasury. During the social hour the hostess served delicious hot chocolate and cake.

Mrs. A. F. Dantzler spent Wednesday in Biloxi.

A damper was put on the Mardi Gras spirit here Tuesday as elsewhere when the downpour of rain in the afternoon interrupted the appearance of the would-be maskers. Only a few children braved the elements, wearing rain coats over their gay costumes.
